AUSTRALIAN MINING
DRY BLOWING
Villetti

LL7355

Raphael Tuck & Sons' "OILETTE" [Regd.] Postcard 7608. AUSTRALIAN GOLD MINING
WIDE WIDE WORLD Series
ART PUBLISHERS TO THEIR MAJESTIES THE KING & QUEEN.
Processwork by Illustrated

TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE. POSTKARTE

By Appointment

Dry Blowing. In auriferous districts where water is scarce or absent, the prospector tests the value of his "find" by dry blowing. The gold-bearing sand is poured from one dish to another in the open air. The breeze blows aside the lighter particles, leaving the gold and coarser sand to fall into the lower dish, when the gold can be "specked" from the sand.

(For Address Only)

CTPA 12.9